THE REFLECTOR

Twelve years ago Miss Jean Schwebel came to Nevada School as a first grade teacher. Her knowledge and patient teaching has helped in every field of study and has been a guiding influence to those whom she taught.

To Miss Schwebel we dedicate this publication of the 1951 Reflector, and we sincerely wish to congratulate her for her friendliness and guidance throughout the last twelve years.

LUTHER B. LUST
Superintendent

We, the Seniors, wish to express our appreciation and gratitude to Superintendent Lust.

With his cheerful smile and ready advice he has encouraged and inspired us during the last several years in the Nevada School.

Class History

September, 1946, two little trees, the Classes of 1951 were planted, one in Nevada High School, and one in Eden High School. Little did any one think that these two trees would ever unite in the future.

As Freshman Classes these little trees thrived, the Nevada tree having 16 leaves, and the Eden tree having 7 leaves. At Nevada the biggest leaf of all was Wayne England, while the biggest leaf of Eden was John Tschantz.

Next came the Sophomore year and the trees grew and flourished as all trees will which are given the excellent opportunities that these little trees were given. All the leaves showed added improvement, but the top most leaf this year at Nevada was Eddie Clevenger, with Donald Corfman holding this position at Eden.

Another year, the trees are getting quite large. They now are Junior Classes. A very important position as all class trees well know. Ronald Klink was chosen as the main leaf of Nevada, and Miriam Corfman as the main leaf at Eden. Under Ronald's leadership, the much talked about all night Junior-Senior Banquet was staged in the Nevada auditorium, while at Eden under Miriam's capable guidance a similar banquet was held at Sandusky.

Now it is 1951 and the space between the two trees has grown so small that the two trees united to form one tree. The once little trees are now one very wise and grown up tree. The number of leaves is eighteen. From these, John Tschantz was chosen as the leaf to lead the rest. Donald Corfman, Alice Mosman, Eddie Clevenger, and Joyce Heinlen were elected as his helpers.

These leaves, like the rest, did not stay long, nor will the tree get any larger. The Class of 1951 has gone on, seeking new worlds to conquer.

Class Will

We, the Seniors of the Nevada High School, upon this 22nd day of May, 1951 do hereby agree to the following document, and do bequeath upon the following classmates our most highly prized traits and possessions.

Article I: To the faculty members as a whole, we leave all our paper and pencils which we so often forgot to bring to class.

Article II: To the Junior Class we leave our battered and beat-up books including and scribbling and wrong answers they may find within them.

Article III: To individual members of the high school we leave the following:

I, Irene Bachtell, will my bashfulness to Mary Ellen Dilley.

I, Eddie Clevenger, will my homely face to any sucker.

I, Donald Corfman, endow to Miss Feters my conduct in music class.

I, Miriam Corfman, will my position in sextet to any one who wants it.

I, Homer Gilliland, bequeath my cute smile to Jim Disher.

I, Stanley Goodman, endow my Nash to Frank Sipes.

I, Joyce Heinlen, will to Ardith Young my position as majorette.

I, Carol Jacobs, endow my soprano voice to Mary Pell.

I, Jo Ann Jury, will my Cadillac to any one who wants a good car.

I, Ronald Klink, will my position as drum major to Dick Weaver.

I, Donald McElhaney, bequeath my red hair to the handsome Merle Mathews.

I, Charles Mosman, will my A's in F.F.A. to the Future Farmers of America.

I, Alice Mosman, endow my natural curly hair to Martha Mathews.

I, Joyce Reed, endow to Ruth Ellen Schilling my ability to stay home from school.

I, Max Speigel, will my girl friends to Roger Monroe.

I, Bill Stover, bequeath to Fredrick Clinger my ability to high-jump.

I, John Tschantz, endow the Senior Presidency to any one who wants to commit suicide.

I, Robert Morgan, bequeath my Mohawk to Milton Motter.

Basketball

Although the 1950-'51 basketball team did not blossom forth with numerous trophies and laurels for Nevada High School, we are proud to claim the title "A highly improved team", which has been given to Nevada High School.

The squad has shown wonderful improvement if not many victories under the capable training of Mr. Neeb. But then "Rome was not built in a day"

Several Seniors will be lost by the squad next year: Robert Morgan, Donald Corfman, Donald McElhaney, Ronald Klink, and Bill Stover.

Baseball

Only two games were marked up for Nevada this year, but the team must be given credit for their earnest effort. Ronald Klink, Robert Morgan, Eddie Clevenger, Donald McElhaney, and Bill Stover will be lost by the team, but there are other players to fight for future victories.

Prince of Peace

Fourteen members turned out for the Prince of Peace this year. Two contests were held, one at the Methodist Church. The winners were Natalie Jo Coons and John Tschantz, and June Markley and Shirley Craft were alternates. We were proud to have Natalie Jo and John win second place in the county contest.

"In Grand Old Switzerland"

The operetta "In Grand Old Switzerland" was presented on the 16th and 17th of November under the excellent direction of Miss Fetters. It was the first operetta since 1945. The operetta was also given over WMRN with parts being somewhat altered but was given with great applause.

In the operetta there was a constant quarrel between Herr Bolliger, a clockmaker (Bob Sortland) and Herr Nops, a famous guide and mountain climber (Ronald Klink). Herr Nops' son Juli (John Tschantz) and Herr Bolliger's daughter Trudi (Imogene Kuenzli) were greatly attracted to each other much to their father's dismay.

Then tourists from America, Mrs. Miller (Marilyn Fackler) and her son and daughter, portrayed by Donald Corfman and Patty Reynolds, caused only more complications, all of which made for a surprise climax. Then the two old men became very good friends.

Other supporting characters were Hedwig and Fritz portrayed by Miriam Corfman and Charles Mosman. The rest of the cast was composed of the members of the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs.

"Clementine"

A most entertaining class play was given this year by the Junior Class. The play "Clementine" is a cleverly written story of a tom-boy who finds that boys just don't go for girls that can beat them at football. To land her man Clementine becomes a refined lady by taking elocution lessons. It all ends happily as good plays should, but it has a lesson by which we can all benefit.

Swell Job Juniors.

Sextet

Martha Gilliland and Miriam Corfman, second sopranos, are the two new members of the sextet this year. The other members are Imogene Kuenzli and June Markley, first sopranos; and Gladys Monroe and Onalee Stover, altos. This group sang at various entertainments.

Both these organizations would not have been able to give their grand performances without the capable and splendid direction of Miss Fetzers. The Seniors, as well as the others, are very thankful for her wonderful help.

Octet

This choral group began its singing this year for the first time. They have sung for various entertainments. The group consists of John Tschantz, Donald Corfman, Charles Mosman, and Eddie Clevenger, tenors; and Ronald Klink, Stanley Goodman, Joel Klink, and James Disher, bass.
